TEST INDICATES DEVER TRACTION VICTORY TODAY

At Least 30 Votes in Council Assured.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The aldermanic election last Tuesday indicated clearly and definitely that the municipal railway ordinance would pass the city council with thirty to thirty-eight votes in its favor. That was printed in THE TRIBUNE Wednesday morning. Aldermanic interviews Wednesday verified that prediction—thirty to thirty-eight votes—and it was repeated yesterday. A test vote in the city council confirmed that forecast yesterday afternoon.

The test came in postponing action because of the death of Ald. Joseph O. Costner. Those favoring the ordinance urged an adjournment for one day, as does the United States senate and those upon the death of a member. Others proposed a recess until Monday. Those who favored action today won by a vote of 24 to 10.

Minimum of Thirty Expected.

The lineup on the ordinance today will be different from the vote yesterday. Some who voted for Monday will favor the ordinance and others who preferred today will be against the ordinance. But every indication points to the accuracy of the forecast of thirty to thirty-eight votes for the ordinance out of a possible forty-five. The council has four vacancies and one alderman sick in bed.

Several aldermen whose political affiliations are against the ordinance indicated yesterday to say they would go on record against the ordinance. They dislike to vote against promised transportation for their constituents. It is disagreeable to them to vote against a plan providing for 345 miles of surface line extensions, 44 miles of subway, 215 miles of elevated lines, and 4,710 new cars.

Fear to Lose Favor.

If the people of a ward vote on the referendum for additional transit service while the alderman of that ward voted against it, the voters of such a ward might decide in two years that they preferred another representative in the city council. Those are thoughts which made several aldermen hesitate to rush vigorously against the pending transit program when the aldermanic election gave no indication of popular approval of the Thompson district 5 cent fare plan.

Roy D. Keen, Hearst representative in Chicago, spoke before the City club yesterday noon in opposition to the pending ordinance. In effect, Mr. Keen accused Mayor Dever of repudiating his pledge on transit improvements.

Quote Dever's Pledge.

In 1923, when a candidate, Mr. Dever said exactly what we are saying now," said Mr. Keen. "Read it: 'As my term, if I am elected, nears an end, the present traction ordinance will expire. We must not wait for that time. We must grapple with the problem immediately. The time has come for the city to take over the lines. That is the only possible solution. I pledge myself to the earliest possible municipal ownership and operation of the city's street car lines.'

"Ownership without operation is merely camouflage for another extension ordinance that might become perpetual. More than that—the companies could unload their present holdings on the city and still retain control of the properties through long term mortgages."

"He asserted that the Hearst newspapers have not changed their position, leaving clear the implied charge that Mayor Dever has."

Prefers Fifty Year Franchise.

Mr. Keen read from a newspaper report of Mayor Dever's speech before the Federation of Women's clubs as follows:

"That is an utter falsehood. New York financiers—Wall Street—would give $250,000,000 for the system if we gave them a fifty year franchise. We are getting it for $163,000,000 because there is no more going value left."

"If this statement is correct," commented Mr. Keen, "as to what Wall Street would do, it is a much better proposition from every point of view for the city than the proposed Dever ordinance, as it would be infinitely better for the city to grant a fifty year franchise to the New York financiers, assuming that they would agree to furnish the necessary extensions and provide first class transportation to all sections of the city as is promised by the supporters of the Dever ordinance, with a fixed and reasonable rate of fare, than it would be to accept the Dever ordinance."

WITNESS TELLS OF M'CLINTOCK FAMILY DEATHS

Quiz Hears About Suspicions.

How easily typhoid fever germs might be obtained by any one with evil intent was told yesterday to the coroner's jury investigating the typhoid fever death of William McClintock. More was also told about the financial condition and the financial expectations of William D. Shepherd, who inherited approximately $1,000,000 from McClintock.

During the hearing Attorney Edwin Hedrick jumped up and shouted to Deputy Coroner Charles Kennedy:

"O, I object! It seems utterly impossible that such stuff should be offered—not on murder, but in an effort to prejudice the jury against Shepherd."

Olson Tells His Aims.

To which Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court, who was questioning a witness about Shepherd's financial affairs, replied:

"I propose to show that Shepherd didn't have any financial standing, that Billy McClintock was not living with the Shepherds, but that they were living on him. They were parasites living on the McClintock estate."

At another point in the inquest Jerome Matillo, whose first wife's brother married Shepherd's sister, said that Shepherd's brother, Preston, asked of his brother: "What are you going to get out of this?" (helping Mrs. McClintock in erecting a cottage) and to which he said William D. Shepherd replied:

"Don't you worry about Willy. He'll come out with his pockets filled."

Tells of Mother's Death.

The testimony of the day had much to do with the death of Mrs. McClintock fifteen years ago, which left the $1,000,000 estate to her only son, William, then 6 years old. She had been in Texas with Shepherd, went home to Chicago sick, was followed home by Mrs. Shepherd, and in the words of the witness, Matillo, "next Monday she was a corpse."

"Shepherd was in Texas when Mrs. McClintock died in Chicago, wasn't he?" Attorney Hedrick asked, and the witness answered, "Yes."

"Did the look pink before she left?" Did Shepherd feed any one prussic acid in Texas? Did Shepherd feed any one typhoid germs to your knowledge?" Attorney Hedrick fired at the witness, who answered, "No."

William Goyette, 7334 Jeffery avenue, a plumber, said he had, upon seeing the dead body of Mrs. McClintock, suggested that an autopsy be performed, as he was suspicious that all was not well.

Dr. Olson Not Called.

He said her face was swollen and dark, and he thought it strange Dr. Olson had not been called to attend her, because she had once told him Dr. Olson's prescriptions always seemed to help her.

"Mrs. McClintock was worried before she started for Chicago," Matillo testified. "She said it was not about money. Shepherd hadn't paid the men, and Mrs. McClintock had put $1,000 to his credit in the bank for him to do so, but she said it wasn't that which worried her."

"Shepherd wanted to accompany her, at least as far as Galveston, but she told him she didn't want him along. She wanted me to go with her to the station, but Shepherd came along in the wagon. She said to me she wished she had never started to build there."

The witness then told about Shepherd's saying he would have his pockets filled.

"You know now what he meant?" Judge Olson asked.

"Yes, it seems so," Matillo responded.

Knew Mother in Kansas.

Goyette testified he knew Mrs. McClintock in St. Mary's, Kas., when she was a girl, Emma Nelson, the daughter of a contractor. Judge Olson was then principal of the school he and Emma attended, he said. He renewed his acquaintance with her when she lived at 2226 Calumet avenue, Chicago, sixteen or more years ago.

"After Mr. McClintock's death Shepherd often came to her home. I saw him there several times. He told me Attorney Reichmann was crooked. He said Reichmann had returned from a trip to Texas, advising her that her lands there were not worth more than $10 an acre, and said if she could sell at that figure she would do well. Shepherd told me he then accompanied Mrs. McClintock to Texas, and they were told by a real estate agent's son that Reichmann had written they were coming, though they told him not to write."

"He said also that Reichmann said (Continued on page 9, column 1.)

AND WE WONDER WHY WE DON'T GET MORE GOOD MEN

DROPS DEAD ON STREET; $10,000 CHECK IN POCKET

Robert J. Halle, 68 years old, former secretary of the National Liquor Dealers' association, dropped dead presumably of heart disease as he was crossing the Clark street bridge over the river last night. A certified check for $10,000 was found in his pockets after he had been pronounced dead at the Passavant hospital.

Michael J. McCarthy, 6117 Winthrop avenue, secretary of the Retail Meat Beverage company, identified Halle. He could not explain the check, but told the police Halle lived at the home of Mrs. Florence Carter, 5102 Kenmore avenue, to whom he was to have been married soon.

The check made payable to Halle, was signed by Mary Cronin, a public stenographer, whom the police were unable to locate last night. In Halle's pockets also was found a twenty page typewritten speech or essay denouncing prohibition.

Get $10,000 in Bold Holdup on R. R. Train

Two sleek young men boarded a Chicago bound New York Central train at Toledo yesterday and sat quietly in a day coach until about 8:30 o'clock last night.

Then, as the train sped through Chesterton, Ind., and bore down on Gary, they opened a suitcase and took therefrom a sawed off shotgun and a revolver.

Within fifteen minutes they had collected gems and currency from a dozen passengers in the one Pullman coach valued at $10,000 and dropped off the train at Gary. Police of a dozen Indiana and Illinois towns searched for them last night without success.

Boarded Train at Toledo.

The train, No. 23, is a daycoach affair, mostly making up at Buffalo and New York City. The train conductor, James Elliott, remembered taking two tickets from the robbers after they got on at Toledo, but they were so unobtrusive all day that he paid little attention to them.

But about fifteen minutes before the train was due to make a brief stop at Gary the robbers sauntered toward the Pullman car at the rear of the train. Between the day coach and the Pullman they met the porter, F. D. Robertson, and Paul Fournier, the flagman, both of Toledo.

They pointed the shotgun and revolver at the trainmen and herded them into the coach and to its far end, giving one passenger, it is reported, opportunity to hide his purse, holding several hundred dollars, under the cushions of his seat.

Then the man with the shotgun stood up on a seat and commanded all the passengers to raise their hands. They did so.

Leave Train at Gary.

His companion, revolver ready, and using his hat as a receptacle, went down the aisle and searched men and women without discrimination. Rings were torn from fingers and pins extracted from scarves. Pocketbooks were demanded from all, and the women's bags were searched.

As the brakes began to grind for the stop at Gary the pair backed toward the door.

"Don't poke a head through this door until the train starts or we'll shoot it off," said the tall man with the shotgun. "No one did. They dropped off and in a minute the train started again. It was stopped at Indiana Harbor and wires were sent to all points close to Gary and on the route to Chicago, toward which, police believe, the robbers will eventually head.

Only two Chicago residents were among those robbed. They are Mrs. Mark P. Lang, 439 Melrose street, and her daughter, Miss C. L. Lang. They gave up rings and currency to a total of $500.

Among other passengers who suffered losses are Mrs. T. E. Gonzales, 4714 West 158th street, New York; Miss Stella Turhill, 193 Orrington avenue, Evanston; Miss Alva Shaleen, Hotel St. Paul, St. Paul, Minn.; George E. Smith, 1060 East 36th street, Des Moines, Ia., who lost $50 in cash; Mrs. C. S. McCullough, Des Moines, Ia., who gave up two diamonds worth $1,000; and Bushner, the Pullman conductor, from whom $2.60 was taken.

Small Names Deneen for Vacant Seat

Gov. Small last night appointed Senator-elect Charles S. Deneen to complete the unexpired five days of the late Medill McCormick's term in the United States senate. The governor was urged by Senator Curtis of Kansas, Republican floor leader, to fill the vacancy at once. The possible need of a Republican vote in the final legislative jam at Washington is understood to have been emphasized in the request.

The selection of former Gov. Deneen was regarded as the most logical and appropriate choice the governor could make, inasmuch as Mr. Deneen's regular term as Senator McCormick's successor begins next Wednesday.

Deneen Not Well.

The Deneen appointment was made after a day spent in conferences in Chicago. Mr. Deneen was slightly ill at his home and it was not until last night that he felt sure that he would be able to go to Washington immediately. He probably will leave for Washington immediately after the McCormick funeral today. Earlier, when it was feared Mr. Deneen's slight indisposition might delay his start for the capital, the governor was considering the name of State Chairman Frank L. Smith to fill the short vacancy.

Senator's Papers Ready.

George D. Sutton, Gov. Small's secretary, left Springfield for Chicago last night with Mr. Deneen's commission certified by Secretary of State Emmerson.

The Republican state committee will meet today in accordance with a previous call by the chairman to select a new national committeeman to succeed the late Fred W. Upham. It is a practical certainty that Congressman Allen F. Moore of Monticello will be chosen.

CAPITAL BOWS IN TRIBUTE AT SENATOR'S BIER

President Coolidge Attends Funeral.

The funeral of Medill McCormick will be held at 11:30 a. m. today at the Fourth Presbyterian church, North Michigan avenue and Delaware place. The body of the senator will arrive at 8:40 a. m. from Washington, and with it will come the widow, other relatives, and representatives of both houses of congress.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING. (Pictures on back page.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—The highest in the land came today to the bier of Senator McCormick to show their affection for the lovable man they all called Medill, to do honor to a young and valiant spirit that left a nation the poorer by its passing.

Beside the flower smothered coffin sat the President of the United States and Mrs. Coolidge; William Howard Taft, chief justice of the Supreme court and former President, with Mrs. Taft; the secretary of state and Mrs. Hughes, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, the secretary of war and Mrs. Weeks, the postmaster general and Mrs. New, the secretary of the navy and Mrs. Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior Work, Secretary of Agriculture Gore, and Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

Congressional Leaders There.

There also were the speaker of the house and Mrs. Gillett; the president pro tempore of the senate, Senator Cummins of Iowa; Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas, majority leader of the senate; Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio, majority leader of the house; generals, admirals, foreign diplomats, headed by Ambassador Riano of Spain; senators, members of the Illinois delegation and other representatives in congress, leaders of the Republican and Democratic parties, and men who fought by the side of Senator McCormick in Roosevelt's Progressive party in 1912.

The varied character of the assemblage, representing not only the business and other countries, bore witness to the far ranging range of the senator's interest and acquaintance and to the place he had won in the esteem of the world before he had reached his forty-eighth birthday.

Here and there in the gathering of several hundred mourners at the funeral service in the Dupont circle residence of Mrs. Eleanor Glycyka, cousin of Senator McCormick, one noted a figure that awakened memories of other days in that middle west and bred. Such a figure was that of Mrs. Marshall Field, widow of Chicago's great merchant.

Flags at Half Staff.

With the flags on the capitol and other government buildings at half staff in honor of the senator, the business took a recess during the period of the funeral. So great was the press of the throng and of vehicles about the marble house in Dupont circle that a squad of traffic police was required to direct traffic.

The service, which was devoid of music, was distinguished by the addresses of two of Senator McCormick's colleagues, Senator Reed of Missouri, Democrat, and Senator Pepper of Pennsylvania, Republican. Senator Pepper eulogized Mr. McCormick as a loyal friend and public servant, and Senator Reed based his tribute on the courage Senator McCormick displayed in 1919 in raising his voice against the wave of sentiment sweeping the country for the league of nations, uttering a warning of entanglement which the nation eventually heeded, a view of the league which the nation came to endorse in an overwhelming degree.

Leave for Chicago.

The funeral party accompanying the body left Washington at 3 o'clock this afternoon on a special train on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad for Chicago, where another service will be held tomorrow at the Fourth Presbyterian church.

In addition to the widow, Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, there were in the funeral party Col. Robert R. McCormick, brother of the senator, and Mrs. McCormick; Mrs. Glycyka, Harold McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hanna, Dan Hanna, Mrs. Stanley McCormick, Mrs. Tiffany Blake, Mr. and Mrs. William Hard, George F. Porter, Elmer Soltesinger, Mrs. Adele Harrison, Blanche Hanson, Senators McKinley of Illinois and Spencer of Missouri, repre-

INDIANA REBEL SENATORS GAIN POINT; GO HOME

Welcomed by G. O. P. at Capital.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 27, 2 a. m.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Indiana Democratic senators who fled into Ohio, tying up business in the upper branch of the state legislature in protest against attempts to pass a gerrymander bill, arrived here at 1:10 o'clock this morning. They were welcomed back to the state capital by Lieut. Gov. Harold Van Orman and other Republican leaders.

Dayton, O., Feb. 26.—[By the Associated Press.]—Indiana Democratic senators won their point tonight, and started a triumphant trip back to Indianapolis. They were given to understand the gerrymander bill which caused them to bolt the Indiana general assembly will not pass.

Information was obtained following a conference of the men who yesterday fled from Indiana to Dayton as a protest against the bill.

Harold Van Orman, lieutenant governor of Indiana and president of the state senate, was in telephone communication with Joseph Cravens, leader of the faction, staying in a Dayton hotel. Attorney General Gilliom of Indiana and other officials at Indianapolis also talked with several of the senators.

HOST TO ATTEND LAST RITES FOR SEN. MCCORMICK

Simple Services to Be Held Here This Morning.

While the funeral services for the late Senator Medill McCormick this morning will be extremely simple, the tributes are that many hundreds of his friends will attend.

From the conspicuous and the humble alike yesterday came expressions of sorrow. Political dignitaries, social friends, former employees, and many of whom Senator McCormick had been a helper in need, joined in tributes to his character, his services to humanity and to his country.

The funeral party will reach Chicago on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at 8:40 o'clock this morning. The senator's body rests in a private car on a special section of the Capitol Limited which left Washington at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon after services there which were attended by the nation's leaders. The train was authorized by the senate.

Body to Be Taken to Church.

The body will be taken directly to the Fourth Presbyterian church at Michigan avenue and Delaware place. The senator was a member of the church.

The Rev. H. A. Dalzell will conduct the service at 11:50 o'clock. He will be assisted by the Rev. Charles E. Wood of Washington and the Rev. M. P. Armstrong, pastor of the little country Presbyterian church at Mid-West, six miles north of Byron, where the McCormick dairy farm is located.

Reading of the burial service, the scriptures, a prayer and a hymn by the choir, directed by Eric DeLamar, will constitute the service.

It is requested that the honorary pallbearers, on arriving at the church, seek seats reserved for them.

Mother Ill in Florida.

Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, the widow, will go from the train to the senator's residence at 2750 Lake View, where the McCormicks have been occupying this winter, to join the three children, Katrina, 11; John Medill, 8, and Ruth, 3. Mrs. Robert S. McCormick, the senator's mother, is ill at Palm Beach and will not be able to be there.

In addition to the congressional delegation from Washington, city, county, state governments, the sanitary district, the Union League club, and many other organizations will be represented.

Departments of the federal building with the exception of the postoffice, will be closed during the funeral hour. The flag was placed at half staff over the building yesterday. Offices of the sanitary district also will be closed for this period. The trustees all will attend the funeral.

To Represent Club.

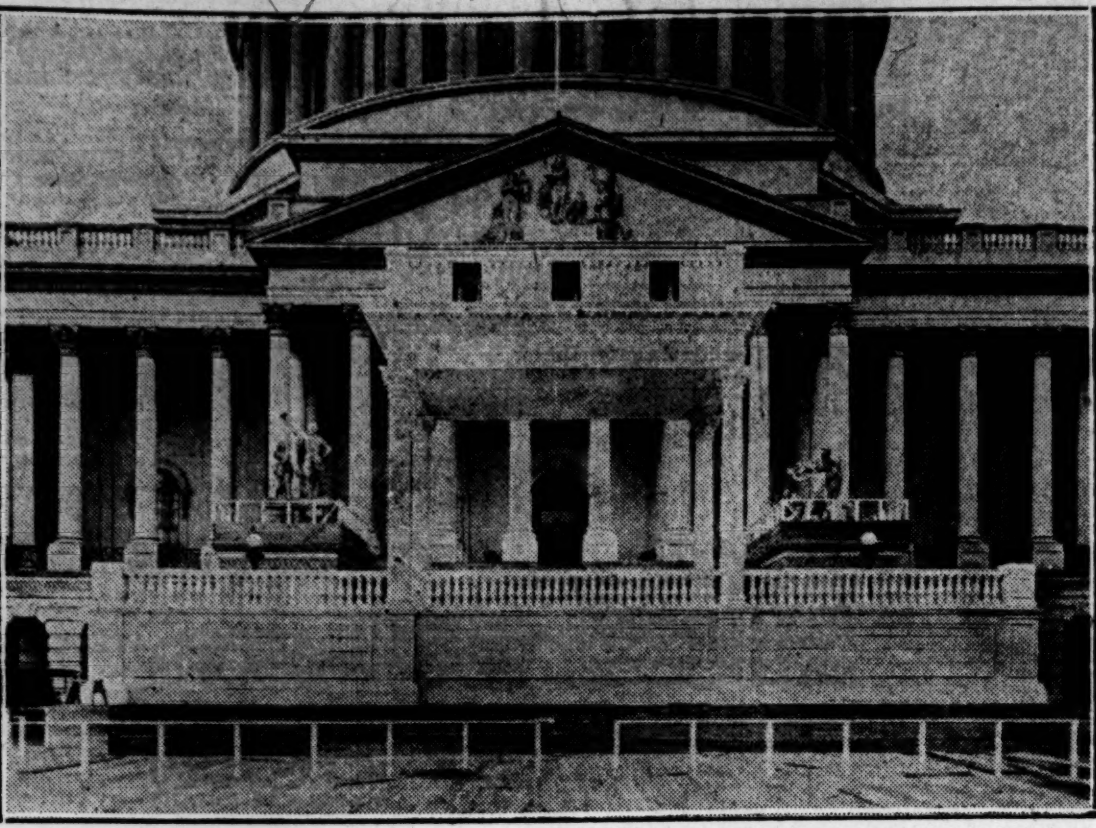

The Union League club announced that the following members will represent the club at the funeral: W. J. Jackson, Harry Eugene Kelly, George W. Dixon, Roy O. West, George B. McKibben, P. B. Eckhart, Edward R. Litzinger, Walter F. Dodd, Augustus S. Peabody, John T. Richards, Charles M. McDowell, F. L. Bateman, John Benham, Robert W. Chidus, James E. MacMurray, William Nathan MacChesney, and Henry W. Price.

Cook County Council of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States adopted resolutions yesterday which were forwarded to Mrs. McCormick. The resolutions state that "Senator Medill McCormick in his life has shown himself a true friend of all soldiers, sailors, and marines, and especially of those who have served this country on foreign soil in time of war and conflict, and has performed many kindnesses for those of our comrades in need of his valuable aid and advice."

The resolutions are signed by Sam H. Myer, commander; A. J. Estes, P. C. Atkinson, W. J. Zippman, W. J. Boesert, G. R. Liska, J. B. Lynch, E. L. Atkins, and M. J. Bohlad.

ton club appointed the following committee to attend the services:

William B. McKinley, George W. Dixon, Charles E. Shearman, Judge Harry Lewis, Palmer Anderson, Robert R. Levy, Judge Adam Cliffe, John H. Cook, Charles W. Vail, Fred Sterling, Louis L. Emmerson, Oscar Nelson, Oscar Carlstrom, James D. Snyder, James Edgar Brown, Alexander Pyke, and Judge Charles F. McKinley.

In adopting resolutions of sympathy the sanitary district of Chicago stated the following services of Senator McCormick:

"His long and varied activities in public affairs gave him the experience, coupled with sound judgment, that resulted in his becoming one of the most influential members of the United States senate in solving perplexing problems of finance, foreign policies, and the public welfare which confronted our country at the close of the war."

Fought for City's Health.

"He did yeoman service to obtain for the sanitary district of Chicago a flow of water from Lake Michigan through the Chicago river which would be adequate to keep the water supply of the city and its environs free from contamination, and was a zealous supporter of the lakes to the gulf and the St. Lawrence river waterways projects."

The resolution was introduced by Trustee Morris Eller.

The Young People's Zionist auxiliary held a special meeting to offer condolence. Barnett Hodges, in commenting on the resolution, said that after the passage of the Balfour declaration in England, looking with favor upon the establishment of a home in Palestine for the Jewish people, Senator McCormick urged this government to ratify the provisions in the British declaration.

Ex-Senator Lewis' Message.

Former Senator James Hamilton Lewis telegraphed the following from St. Louis:

"The death of Senator McCormick takes from Illinois a worthy and valued servant of the state. Senator McCormick, as a Republican nominee, was the victor over me and was my successor in the United States senate. His unwavering loyalty to his cause, his devotion to an ideal, marked him for leadership. He was of the foremost senators of his party. His life is an encouragement to young men. Medill McCormick, though born to wealth and high station, did not idle away his life in empty pleasures. He applied his talents and inheritances to the use of his state and service of his fellow man. For all this he will be remembered in praise and live in honor."

James Simpson sent the following message to Mrs. McCormick:

"I am deeply grieved and shocked at the news of Medill's death. Our lifelong friendship, our close association, and my keen appreciation of his outstanding ability and genius make me mourn deeply the loss of my friend."

County Treasurer P. J. Carr wired from New Orleans:

"I am deeply grieved to learn of the untimely death of Senator McCormick. He was preeminent among the younger leaders of the nation, and there was none better equipped to deal with its problems."

In a message from Miami, Fla., Michael L. Igoo says: "Illinois has suffered a great loss and Chicago mourns a true friend in the untimely death of Senator McCormick. Although we differed politically, my service with him in the general assembly caused me to recognize one of Illinois' finest products and one of her greatest sons."

Judge Doubts Woman's Story She Killed Husband

Judge Harry Hamlin yesterday again continued hearing of a manslaughter charge against Mrs. Mildred Rollo, 315 South Ashland avenue, who had admitted killing her husband but said it was in self-defense. Judge Hamlin wants to investigate reports that brothers of the dead man said another man killed him and that Mrs. Rollo was attempting to cover the real slayer by her confession.

MAIL ORDER FIRM SHIPS PISTOLS IN SHOE BOXES

The mail order gun houses are fighting back propaganda to banish their wares from the market, it was revealed yesterday in South Chicago police court when one of the leaders in such sales here was fined $200 "for selling a gun to a Chicago resident without permit," a violation of the city ordinances.

Judge William Helander recommended to the state's attorney's office a rigid investigation of the affairs of the Chicago Supply company and its subsidiaries, the American Novelty company and the Perfection Shoe company.

E. Rojewski, an employee of the mail order gun house, was arrested and fined $200 and costs. D. J. Alrissman, president of the three companies, was in court.

A letter from the mail order house said:

"We are having the shipment made by the Perfection Shoe company in a regular shoe carton, as a great many small postmasters have taken upon themselves the liberty of returning the packages in spite of the fact that every American citizen has the legal right to own a gun."

POSTAL SALARY AND RATE BILL UP TO COOLIDGE

Senate Adopts Conference Report.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—Final legislative approval was given today to the postal salary and rate increase bill, which now goes to President Coolidge.

The senate by a vote of 69 to 12 adopted the conference report as approved yesterday by the house.

Considerable criticism was expressed against the bill during the two hours of debate but most of the senators who offered objections said they were voting for it because of the salary increase provisions. Objections were chiefly against the parcel post service charge and against increases in second class mail rates.

Added Expense, $68,000,000.

As the bill goes to the President it falls about $10,000,000 short of raising sufficient revenue to finance the salary increases to postal employees. The increased expenditures under the bill are estimated to amount annually to $68,000,000.

The belief is that President Coolidge will sign the bill notwithstanding the fact that it does not raise quite enough revenue. It is regarded as a certainty that if the original senate bill, which raised considerably less revenue, had been approved by conferees he would have vetoed it. The salary increases as carried in the bill are exactly the same as in the measure which he vetoed last June because it provided no means of financing.

Senate Makes Addition.

Besides increasing postal salaries and rates, the final bill contains the corrupt practices act which was added on the floor of the senate.

That the Democrats will make a campaign issue of the manner in which the bill was drawn was indicated by Senator Harrison (Dem., Miss.), one of the minority party's leading keynotes, in a speech attacking the legislation. He was one of those voting against it.

Senator Harrison said that under the precedent established in this bill of financing salaries increases a similar method would be proposed without doubt to take care of employees in numerous other departments of the government.

FIREMAN FALLS TO DEATH.

GERMAN RULER HOVERS BETWEEN LIFE AND DEATH

Fear Ebert May Not Survive Illness.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign Service.)

[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.] BERLIN, Feb. 26.—President Ebert lies between life and death tonight in West End sanitarium. Peritonitis set in in the early hours of this morning. While there was a slight improvement in his condition tonight, Prof. Krueger, one of his doctors, was pessimistic regarding his chance of recovery. It will be forty-eight hours at least before the crisis passes.

Tonight and tomorrow are regarded as the critical periods. President Ebert may die any time during these stages.

Poison from the inflamed vermiform appendix, which burst, took hold of the peritoneal cavity some time during the night. At 3 o'clock the temperature had risen to the danger point and the president was suffering from extreme pain.

King Better, Lloyd George Worse.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—[United Press.]—King George is recovering so satisfactorily from his illness it is understood he will leave Portsmouth for his convalescence cruise in the Mediterranean about March 5.

David Lloyd George has been ordered to bed to recover from a severe throat inflammation. He has returned to London after several days abed with influenza when the throat affliction became acute.

SLEUTHS FOUND GUILTY; FINES NOT COLLECTED

A few minutes after he had found two detective sergeants, Anthony McGowan and John J. Murphy of the detective bureau, guilty of contempt of court yesterday, Municipal Judge John H. Lyle released the pair from custody without forcing collection of $1 fines each. But he did not release them in time to prevent their counsel, John F. Tyrrell, from opening habeas corpus proceedings before Judge William J. Lindsay of Criminal court.

Upon learning the circumstances, Judge Lindsay continued action on the writs to next Saturday. The officers roused the ire of Judge Lyle several weeks ago. He held them responsible for the rearrest of a man whom Judge Lyle had admitted to bond pending investigation of a wife and child abandonment charge made at Chelsea, Mass. The officers held extradition measures in the case had been properly disposed of and, it is alleged, assisted a Boston officer in removing the prisoner from the state.

STOKES' LETTERS SHOW HIM GIVING TIPS TO SLEUTHS

Sent $50 a Day Man on Scandal Hunts.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.
"There hasn't been a single detective agency working in this case for whose evidence I care a damn. What's been done, I've done myself."
—W. E. D. Stokes phrase, such as "I never stop," or "It's names I want." And it was every day or two, from July 25 to Sept. 7, 1923, that Mr. Stokes sent off these messages to Altz.

Had Plenty of Suspicion.
When Mr. Stokes wrote, "what's been done, I've done myself," he referred to no mean amount of work and speculation, the prosecutor brought out as he read the letters. For there was hardly a scandal within the last twenty years with which the ageing husband had not attempted to connect his young wife.

Jack De Saullies, the Yale football player, whose wife shot and killed him; Dan Jackson, Chicago colored politician; Peggy Joyce's husband, one of them; these were just a few of the men whom W. E. D. Stokes listed in the roster of his wife's alleged sweethearts.

There would be a paragraph of names and places and accusations, then an underlined phrase, such as "I never stop," or "It's names I want." And it was every day or two, from July 25 to Sept. 7, 1923, that Mr. Stokes sent off these messages to Altz.

Defense Objects to Letters.
Altz's return messages, most of them "throwing down" as "useless" the leads which his employer had furnished him so zestfully, were also read into the record. All the correspondence was objected to by defense counsel. Attorneys John J. Healy and Charles F. Rathbun, on the grounds that it was a private investigation between a man and the detective he had hired. But the objection was overruled and the letters were made much of by the state.

It was in July, 1923, Altz testified, that Mr. Stokes appeared in the detective's office, produced some 75 or 100 pictures of both white and black people, and retained the investigator at his regular fee of $50 per day.
At that interview, Altz recalled, the elderly man had declared he had "ample information to prove his wife had been an inmate of the Everleigh club," and that he had 150 statements to back it up.
"That's hard to believe," Mr. Altz had responded.
Mr. Stokes had then spread out the

AGED 93—GETS LOST IN LOOP

Carl Wilhelm Treiding, 3242 North Troy street, who became confused by changes in downtown district and was cared for by police until his son took him home.

now widely known pictures of Mrs. Stokes in the victoria electric, in the spindle legged chair, holding a baby on her lap, and others.

Wished to Show Her Unfit.
"I want to show her character so low," the man had said of his wife, "that she is not a fit person to have the custody of the children."

After insisting that he knew Mrs. Stokes had been a member of the Everleigh club, a lavishly run resort "down the line" in the old red light district, the New Yorker had urged his investigator to get proof of that statement.

A few days later the letters began to come.

These letters, as the jury listened to them, were a melange of every possible speculation, all interlarded with notes about pictures and electric and violets and red headed girls, and house of vice in the district of two decades ago. The assistant porter of some fourth rate "district" café would be named in one clause; the wealthy, prominent man of perhaps international reputation would be penned in the next.

There was Chauncey McCormick, "son of a wealthy banker for the Mormon church in Utah"; he went through $50,000,000, the letters indicated. And he it was, Mr. Stokes maintained, who had given Mrs. Stokes her victoria electric back in 1904.

Then there was the picture of Mrs. Stokes seated in a spindle legged chair. "That chair," several of the letters asserted, "used to be in the buffet of George Spencer's house." Try to buy it.

On Trail of Milliner.
And the large hat worn by Mrs. Stokes in more than one photograph. The bonnet, according to Stokes' instructions to his investigator, had been made by Charles Tobin of 224 street, who with Pauline Barnett had been of cial milliner for the girls at the Everleigh club.

"I believe Tobin has moved to New York. Find me his address and I'll go and see him at once," the employer had suggested.

Closely following this, Mr. Stokes, in rebuke for Altz's slowness in digging up "reliable witnesses," had written, "I understand this business pretty well myself."

The postscript of this letter read: "What I am waiting for is to get unencumbered, unadvised, absolutely clear evidence and affidavits, as to Mrs. Stokes' being in Chicago in 1905 at this house of prostitution. I want to get four or five affidavits from you."

This information supplemented the remark in a previous letter that "There are 1,000 people who know this, and I have 150 of them corralled."

Mr. Stokes may have been provoked with his detective's lack of concrete evidence along about this time, for he writes:

"I hope you have made startling discoveries. If you have difficulty I'll help you, but I'd rather you'd do it yourself. Here is my check for $750, as you request. Let me have more."

But it is the letter dated Aug. 6, 1923, which is a compendium of all Mr. Stokes' speculations and ideas and plans and charges. It is divided and subdivided into carefully classified passages. It required nearly every letter in the alphabet to list the various charges he made.

A Few of His Allegations.

Picking out only a few:

"D—The spindle legged chair was at George Spencer's house. Can you produce it?"

"E—We were told Clarence McCormick purchased that electric for $1,500 and gave it to "subject." "Subject," by the way, is the way in which both Mr. Stokes and Mr. Altz referred to Helen Ellwood Stokes in their correspondence.
"F—What about the Congress hotel and Hal Billie? He was seen coming from the Denver depot with Mrs. Stokes carrying her black bag with black canvas cover, and his own tan bag."
"G—Get affidavits from Mike Shaw. Both knew Billy Blacklock (colored), whose picture I am sending you."
"L—Lieut. Ben Enright of the police department had talk, we are told, with Mrs. Stokes when she went to the Everleigh club. He has her name down as Helen Norwood. Can you get him to show you those records? Buxbaum, at Sherman and Argyle streets, knows Mrs. S. well. He can give an affidavit, he knows all about Mrs. S. and Billy Blacklock."
"N—We have her picture taken with Tex Rickard and George Little, former manager of Jack Johnson, and M. Heller, manager of Buxbaum's. Both knew her well."

Recalls Football Days.
S—When I was in Yale I was head kicker on the Yale football team. Jack De Saullies, who was murdered by his wife, and who was also head kicker on the Yale football team in his time. Mrs. Jack De Saullies, who murdered her husband, got a divorce previous to that time, and it is claimed that in the first papers she named Mrs. Stokes. Joan Sawyer, the dancer, and Joan Sawyer agreed to take all the responsibility on her shoulders and let out Mrs. Stokes provided Jack De Saullies would marry her."

"Now, we are advised that Joan Sawyer is in Chicago, at a cabaret, and we are advised by another that she is in Paris in jail. Now, if she is in Chicago, go and see her and find out what she has to say."

In the next letter Mr. Stokes orders his investigator to check up to see if Dan Jackson, the colored politician, had some white silk pajamas sent from Mrs. Stokes from Kaskel & Kaskel, For, says Stokes, "that Dan Jackson is certainly the cat's meow with Mrs. S."

But Altz, he told Prosecutor Smith yesterday, called up Jackson's home, represented himself as the colored man's laundry man, said there were some fine silk shirts at the laundry, marked Kaskel & Kaskel, and were they his?

Jackson said he didn't own 'em, the witness related.

About this time, toward the last of August, Mr. Altz wrote a letter to Mr. Stokes, read yesterday, answering each one of those many suggestions his employer had made in the letter with the many classifications. He had been able to verify none of Mr. Stokes' charges.

Protests to Detective.

Mr. Stokes had just about time to receive and read this letter when he dispatched a message to Altz declaring, "You have not given me one bit of evidence. That is not fair. So far I have got nothing. The time is short."

Another ten days or so and Altz was ordered to turn over his data to Joseph Brunner, the former cabby in the district, and Mr. Altz's employment with Mr. Stokes was terminated.

HOUSE VOTES TO PAY $125,000 TO CUSTOMS SPIES

Straus Case Shows How Snooping Is Done.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—"For compensation in lieu of moiety in certain cases under the customs laws, fiscal year 1925, $125,000."

When this mysterious looking item was approved by the house today in the passage of the deficiency bill it meant that $125,000 had been given to the customs service to pay informers who tip off the service to smugglers of jewelry, rare laces, and other contraband.

Members who took the trouble to consult Noah Webster found that "moiety" means "a half" in some cases, and "a share or portion" in others, and those who took the further trouble to read the testimony of Ernest W. Camp, chief of customs, before the house appropriations committee, ascertained that in the case of the United States government the moiety paid to an informer must be 25 per cent of the value of the amount recovered, and may run as high as $50,000.

1924 Fines Totaled $712,975.

The curious ones also saw that while the customs service paid $30,000 to the voluntary spies in the last fiscal year, it considers itself indebted for $34,407 more, and, in addition, has other claims of $27,120 laid against it. They also found that fines for smuggling in 1924 reached $712,975, and that in the first half of this fiscal year they already total $358,188.

Testimony by Mr. Camp revealed that an anonymous letter from an informer furnished information about the smuggling of $118,000 of jewelry by "S. W. Straus" of Chicago, who was described as "a big mortgage banker." Mr. Camp said that this tourist received back his "merchandise" on payment of $150,000.

First information of the Straus case came when Mr. Camp alluded to a claim of M. G. Rothschild for $8,750. Representative Madden (Rep., Ill.), chairman of the appropriations committee, asked who this man was.

Explains the Straus Case.

"Rothschild is a member of the American Jewelers' Protective association," was the answer. "They furnished information about the smuggling of jewelry by Mr. Straus of Chicago."

"Simon Straus?" inquired Mr. Madden.

"S. W. Straus."

"How much was it?"

one claim, and about $18,000 in another.

"You got the money?"

"We got the money, yes."

"What did you do with the merchandise?" Mr. Madden inquired.

"The tourist received the merchandise on the payment of $150,000. He was rather insistent that the customs appraisal of the merchandise was too high."

Informing a Business, It Seems.

Smugglers are often jealous of each other and one will double cross the other man by informing on him, Mr. Camp stated.

"Some people are in the business purely for the money they get out of it," he added.

Formerly informers were paid only up to $5,000, but when witnesses before a congressional committee contended that if the maximum were increased the treasury department would receive valuable information leading to large recoveries, the ante was jumped to $50,000, Mr. Camp said.

JUDGE REFUSES TO ANNUL MOIR'S CHILD MARRIAGE

Modern Youth Is Wise, Lewis Maintains.

Children of the flapper age, once they take the secret oath of marriage, must abide their wedding vows—they cannot marry today and annul tomorrow. This was the decision yesterday of Superior Judge Harry A. Lewis, as he held invalid the annulment suit of Harry G. Moir Jr., 18 year old son of the millionaire head of the Morrison Hotel company.
"Youth, in this day and age, is much wiser and more worldly than in years past," declared Judge Lewis as he upheld the plea of Harry's secret bride of last November, Mrs. Irene Johnson Moir, 16, a telephone operator, who fought to prevent the annulment.

A Solemn Obligation.

"The wisdom of the children of today is broad enough to cause them to hesitate long before taking this most serious step," the judge continued. "Though they be but children, they have taken a most solemn obligation, which cannot be so easily undone."

Whether with parents' consent or not, marriages contracted between boys of 14 years and older and girls of 12 or more are legal and binding and must not be annulled unless by some other cause, Judge Lewis held.

He was forced to disregard, the judge said, the Illinois law requiring parents' consent to marriages of boys under 21 and girls under 18. Many court decisions of other states, cited by Mrs. Moir's counsel, held that the younger marriages without consent must be recognized.

Judge Finds No Precedents.

"Our boys and girls must realize that they cannot run off to Waukegan and Crown Point, get married, and then run back to Chicago and have the sacred pact annulled," Judge Lewis went on. "They cannot run, penitent, to their mothers and come lightly into court to shed their burden."

There is no precedent in the appeal courts of Illinois to guide his decision, Judge Lewis said. He hoped that young Moir's attorney, John G. Campbell, would take the case to the Appellate court.

DESCRIBES DEATH OF MCCLINTOCK'S MOTHER AT QUIZ

Witness Says He Was Suspicious Over Cause.

he couldn't visit a certain piece of property because the boat was out of order. When he was there with Mrs. McClintock, he said the captain told him the boat had not been out of order.

Hears of Mother's Death.
Shepherd said he had told Mrs. McClintock that Reichmann was crooked, but she wouldn't believe him.

"When did you first hear that Emma was dead?" Judge Olson asked him.

"When I met Dr. Olson, and he said she was dead, but that he had not attended her," he replied.

"I was going to the funeral, riding with Assistant State's Attorney Lundgren, and I remarked that I thought there should be an autopsy," the witness continued. "Dr. Olson said, 'There's a lot of money back of her.'"

"Did Dr. Olson say whether or not she had willed any money to him?" Attorney Hendrick asked.

"No," he responded.

Mother Was Spiritualist.

"There was a bit of laughter when Judge Olson asked Matillo if he knew the occupation of Shepherd's mother. 'I object,' Attorney Hendrick called to Deputy Coroner Kennedy.

"Objection overruled," said Judge Olson, forgetting for the moment he was not chief justice there, but was in the role of attorney.

"I'll submit all my objections to him from now on," Attorney Hendrick said to Deputy Coroner Kennedy, who affirmed Judge Olson's decision.

"She was a spiritualist medium," the witness then called for a Dr.

Dubbers, who did not respond. It was discovered that a subpoena had been sent to a wrong address.

Dr. J. Davis, professor of bacteriology at the University of Illinois for the last eleven years, then informed the jury about the handling of typhoid germs. They are kept in test tubes and given to the students for study purposes, he said.

"Do the students take them away with them?" Judge Olson queried.

"Yes, they keep them alive for a week or two," the professor responded. "They are given instructions on how to properly destroy them."

"We give out twenty-five to thirty different kinds of disease producing germs for study purposes. They are kept in practically all university laboratories. The museums keep them on hand to give them to medical people."

"I have given them out to a physician," he replied to a question.

"Then, they are to be had from a physician?"

"Yes."

"Are they accessible to nurses?"

"Yes—in hospitals."

"A nurse could give them out?"

"Yes."

"It is not a difficult matter to obtain them?"

"No, I'd say it's an easy matter."

"Are they easier to get than pistols?"

"I'd say easier; you don't have to pay for them."

On cross-examination he said he could not remember any physician not connected with the university to whom he had ever given germs. He said specific instructions were given all students to destroy the germs and to protect against infection by them.

Judge Olson wanted to introduce parts of the statement given by Shepherd at the state's attorney's office. For this purpose he asked that the stenographer who took the testimony be called. He wasn't available.

Submit Whole Statement.

Attorney Hendrick agreed to waive the stenographer's appearance if Judge Olson would submit the entire statement.

"That's fair," he said to Deputy Coroner Kennedy. "These Shepherd cannot be criticized for not making a statement here."

"It contains a lot of self-asserting statements," Judge Olson asserted. "I was not present when the statement was taken."

"But it was taken by representatives of the people," Hendrick countered. "They did not know what to ask him." Judge Olson settled the argument. The stenographer will be present this morning.

Crooked Tax Collector of Hammond Sentenced

John Zitz, real estate dealer and tax collector, was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the penitentiary yesterday by Judge Martin Smith in the Criminal court at Hammond. Zitz in scores of cases collected taxes from his clients and then failed to turn over the money to the county treasurer. He pleaded guilty.

Why Formamint is different

No other antiseptic can protect you in the same degree from the germs of sore throat, grippe, influenza, tonsillitis, as Formamint does because—

Formamint relieves in the throat a powerful yet safe antiseptic that acts continuously and for a long enough time really to kill germs.

You can carry these convenient, pleasant-tasting tablets with you and take them when you most need their protection—as you cannot do with a gargle or spray.

Ask your druggist.

Our Prices Are Never High Buy Your Sunday Dinner Here

How many ways can this store be useful to you?

In so many ways that the whole story would be most interesting.

We will not try to tell it all at once—but one feature called to your attention today is of importance to many people.

Do you live in a hotel—small apartment—kitchenette—or other confined quarters?

If so our Prepared Food Department should attract your attention.

Prepared foods—ready to eat—practically hundreds of delicious, tempting things—that can be had for 1, 2, 3, or any number of people—packed gracefully—and can be handled without muss or trouble.

In a general way—you probably know that you can obtain such things—but you do not realize perhaps—how wonderfully and comprehensively this department has been built in this store.

Salads of every kind freshly made every hour—wonderful cold meats of every kind—roasted fowl, whole or in part—sea foods—prepared in a number of ways—but where would we stop if we continued to tell of all these delightful things—just come and see for yourself.

This store has the greatest human appeal of any store in Chicago—it is a daily exposition of things good to look at, so don't miss an opportunity to visit it.

CITY GIRLS FOR A FINISH FIGHT WITH STRIKERS

"White Wings" Plea for Help Brings Action.

Strenuous measures to prevent a general strike of unionized municipal employees in sympathy with the 2,300 street laborers who walked out on Feb. 27 are contemplated by city administration leaders. A "white wings" union, to call on municipal employees, sewer workers, tradesmen engaged on improvement construction projects, and teamsters delivering coal to public institutions.

Ready for Finish Fight. With the return to their offices today of Chief of Police Collins and Commissioner of Public Works A. A. Sprague, the former from an official visit to Washington and the latter from a sick bed, all of the city's power will be thrown into a finish fight with Carrozzo. The latter is a keen companion and first lieutenant of Big Tim Murphy, now serving a sentence in the Leavenworth penitentiary for robbing the mails.

In Commissioner Sprague's office it was admitted that Carrozzo's challenge to the city to attempt to break the street sweepers' strike at the risk of bloodshed had been accepted. Decisive action as soon as the commissioner appears this morning was freely predicted.

Mayor Dever, it is known, has promised the commissioner full support and given him free rein to settle the dispute which has tied up garbage and ash collections, street cleaning, and street repair activities for eleven days. Acting in the absence of Chief Collins, First Deputy Superintendent of Police Matthew Zimmer scoffed at Carrozzo's prediction that 2,000 additional police will be necessary to protect strike breakers if they are used to replace the white wings. He declared the police department was willing and anxious to back Col. Sprague in his dealings with the strikers.

Acted Decisively in the Past. City hall observers recalled that Col. Sprague quickly settled a strike of garbage handlers at the municipal reduction plant in the summer of 1923 by simply throwing the agitator, Paul David, into a detective bureau cell.

HANDS OF DEATH

The hands of the clock indicate the number of deaths by autos, guns, and moonshine in Cook county since Jan. 1. Yesterday was the fifty-seventh day of 1925.

Within two hours after the strike was called, threats of a somewhat similar method, it is said, halted a strike of city electricians which kept the city in darkness several hours. After a conference with the then chief of police, Charles C. Fitzmorris, the strike leader, Irving (Bosco) Knott, ordered his followers, members of Electrical Workers' union No. 9, to return to work.

A secret meeting of the presidents and business agents of a number of unions, whose members are city employees, was held in a strongly guarded West Madison street room yesterday afternoon to discuss their entry into the squabble, it is known.

What Carrozzo Demands. Carrozzo demands steady employment for the street sweepers with a raise of 50 cents a day in their wages, and a raise of $15 a month to $200 a month for refuse dump foremen. Lack of funds prevents the pay boosts, it was pointed out by Col. Sprague in an ultimatum warning the strikers that unless they returned to their work by March 3 they would be stricken from the city's civil service.

All trades unions employed by the city are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor along with the street sweepers, street repairmen, and foremen. "I am not a strike or a lockout each individual union is in duty bound to aid the other, even to the extent of calling a sympathetic walkout."

The Labor Leader's Stand. "We intended to confine the present strike of municipal employees to those within our own organization. But now that Commissioner of Public Works Sprague has issued a ukase ordering the strikers back to work without redress it becomes the duty of the officials of the Street Sweepers and Street Repairmen's unions to fight such a decree. If they didn't, it would mean the extinction of both municipal employees' organizations."

RIOT IN NEWLYWEDS' LIVES. It only took Edward Winner four months to win his bride of last November and it only took Mrs. Winner four months to decide to win better support than Winner was winning for her. She had him arrested yesterday. He is 53 years old and she is 54. Mrs. Winner charged that Winner had won some of her property from her.

BANKER, BRIDE, NIECE KILLED IN CROSSING CRASH

Auto Wrecked When Hit
by Limited Train.

William Bauman, young banker of Hampshire, Ill., his bride of eight months, and Juanita Doty, 3 years old, his niece, were killed yesterday when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a limited train of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway at a grade crossing in Hampshire, which is near Elgin.

Three deaths were added also to Cook county's motor death toll, raising the total dead since Jan. 1 to eighty-nine. All the Chicago victims were aged persons.

Blame Crossing Gates. Faulty crossing gates are said to have been responsible for the Hampshire accident. Bauman drove his light coupe on to the tracks directly in front of the speeding train. Mrs. Bauman and the little girl were killed instantly. Mr. Bauman, who is 24 years old and an assistant cashier of the State Bank of West Madison, died an hour later in a local hospital.

One of the Chicago victims was Mrs. Bertha Burmeister, 68 years old, of Westmont, Ill. She was struck by an automobile driven by Orville Urban, 3212 Washington boulevard. Mrs. Augusta Zimmer, 51 years old, 4507 North Sacramento avenue, died at her home, supposedly of injuries received on Feb. 19, when she was struck by an automobile at Larrabee and Arlington streets.

Driver Not Held. The third victim to die was George E. Harrigan, 60 years old, 4142 Park avenue, who was struck on Wednesday night while at Keeler avenue and Lake street by an automobile driven by William Noonan, 5447 Hirsch street, who was not held. Harrigan died at the Garfield Park hospital.

Probable fatal injuries were received by Thomas Babelon, 11 years old, 5001 Mackinaw avenue, who was struck by an automobile at Houston avenue and 82d street.

Mystery surrounds the identity of

"Margaret" Niles, 25 years old, of 5237 Kenwood avenue, arrested late yesterday afternoon after an automobile she was driving smashed into one driven by Policewoman Florence Van Amber. The car driven by Margaret was owned by J. P. Niles, said to be a well-to-do real estate dealer connected with the O'Rourke Realty company in the loop. Mrs. J. P. Niles, living at 5237 Kenwood avenue, denied that she was driving the car, and Niles later said it was his sister.

Rebel Kurds Take Turk Governors as Hostages

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 26.—Is met Named, commander in chief of the Turkish armies advancing against the rebellious Kurds, has ordered the mobilization of the five youngest classes in the vilayets adjacent to Kurdistan. The Kurds claim they still hold Diarbekir, Arghana, Doreim, Alexiz, and Malatia, and have taken the governors of Arghana and Diarbekir as hostages.

GLORIA SWANSON BETTER; TO QUIT HOSPITAL SOON

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] PARIS, Feb. 26.—Gloria Swanson is improving so rapidly that she expects to leave the hospital in ten days. "When my wife quits the clinic we will go to the Riviera for a month or so before attempting the sea voyage to America," said Marquis de la Falaie today, discussing the case.

Gloria is not permitted to see friends or her family, except her husband, but the first visitors she will have next week will be her mother and children.

Gloria lost twenty-one pounds since her illness, and her formerly plump face is now drawn and haggard. Thin, peaked, and skinny, without cosmetics, and her bobbed black hair sleekly combed back, she does not resemble the beautiful screen favorite.

Out of the East Floats Melody Rare.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

One should always begin with the most important event of the evening, the Victor concert, but that didn't begin until 8. Meanwhile other things were brought in. With the radio we don't wait for the train to start; we start the train.

The Kankakee bugle corps at WLS, 7:30, sounded the clarion call for this listener. WJBZ, the North Shore Congregational church, was entertaining with piano solos.

Riviera theater orchestra was playing at WEHD. And at WQJ was Lydia Lechner, whose mellow, golden contralto voice is beginning to carry this listener to a degree of enthusiasm where he is tempted to proclaim her one of the very best Chicago voices on the air today.

Now, for the Victor concert broadcast by WMAQ, but if I get too extravagant blame it on Don Bestor's orchestra, which at 10:30 is pouring out molten tantalizing tones from W-G-N—my says I don't like jazz.

"There was a thrill when Announcer Whitney announced the pause for WEAF; then Announcer MacNamee in his best oratorical mood, and the concert was on.

There was an affectionate introduction of Mme. Toti-Dal Monte, operatic coloratura soprano, and if we ever heard a real coloratura singer here was one. She sang "Caro Nome" and "A Little Voice I Hear," from "The Barber of Seville," to warm us up.

While the orchestra "wined up," which were permitted to hear, I moved to W-G-N, hearing the first of the duets, "Sweet and Low" (Holmes), by Mrs. Mabel Sharp Herdian, soprano, and Edward Poole Lay, baritone—an unusual effective combination—and they sang as though they realized that there was competition on the air.

To WMAQ again, hearing the Victor orchestra play "Praeludium" (Jarnfelt), the selection with oboe, flute, and violin pizzicato tricks and things that made the world sound as though it were a good place in which to live.

Then to W-G-N for another duet by Mrs. Herdian and Mr. Lay, and this confirming the impression about the old world, and, with the other moments spent hearing this concert, I was convinced that this in its entirety was another exceptional concert.

WMAQ again. After Mme. Dal Monte had concluded the Mad Scene from "Lucia," this listener was satisfied that, of all the sopranos he had ever heard on the air, this artist has a place all her own. There was a charm, sympathy, pathos; a beautiful pristine, springtime tone, and marvelous technique. De Luca sang an encore, but in reality he brought the program to a close by singing the folk song "Mattioli" (Romilly in English, and a happy, lovely close to a lovely, impressive, artistic concert it was, too.

1 Nations Unite to Build Big Radio Station at Rio

RIO JANEIRO, Feb. 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—Gen. J. G. Harbord, retired, president of the Italo Corporation of America, arrived here today and announced that a high powered radio station would be constructed at Rio Janeiro jointly by his company and English, French and German interests. The new station, he said, would be in operation probably in November.

YANKEE CRUISER SAILS TO PANAMA INDIAN WAR ZONE

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

COLON, Panama, Feb. 26.—There was great excitement in Colon this afternoon when 200 armed Panamanian police arrived from the capital of Panama and sailed later on the auxiliary schooner Isla for Naragana Island, where San Blas Indians, armed with Winchester rifles and shotguns, are menacing a small force of Panama police officials and their families.

The United States cruiser Cleveland sailed this afternoon for the San Blas coast, where the Indians are on the warpath, with American Minister South aboard.

At the same time the United States tug, Sciota, left for Puerto Obaldia, on the Colombian border, to police the entire San Blas coast. R. A. Lamb, inspector general of Panama's general police, an American, was aboard. Mr. Lamb said if he found R. O. Marsh, an American explorer who found the so-called white Indians and who is alleged to have helped arouse the Indians, he would arrest him.

BRITAIN FAVORS GERMANY IN 4 POWER ENTENTE

Means France's Security,
Downing Street View.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
[Copyright, 1925, by The Chicago Tribune.]
PARIS, Feb. 26.—A quadruple entente composed of Great Britain, France, Belgium and Germany, with the double objective of affording France security on the Rhine and winning the reich away from a possible alliance with Russia and Japan is Downing street's newest proposal to Lord D'Orsay, transmitted by Lord Curzon to Premier Herriot, The Tribune is informed.

Means Sacrifice of Poland.

The proposed British scheme means the abandonment of Germany's eastern frontier and sacrifice of Poland, which the French always hitherto declined even to consider.

The recent report by the British general staff, insisting that England must be protected along the Rhine instead of at the channel ports is understood to have influenced the Baldwin cabinet to re-examine the question of guarantees for France, and even Holland has been sounded out about joining the entente.

Warsaw Warns Paris.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
WARSAW, Feb. 26.—Alarmed at the continued Franco-British negotiations for a pact guaranteeing France along the Rhine but ignoring the German eastern frontier, M. Skrzynski, Polish foreign minister, in a speech in parliament today warned the Paris government of the dangerous menace of immediate war in Europe if France deserted Poland or abandoned the defense treaty.

Mrs. Maxine Powers, late wife of Ald. John Powers, left an estate of $480,000, according to documents filed yesterday before Assistant Probate Judge Frederick W. Elliott. There was no will and under the inheritance laws the estate will be divided between Ald. Powers and his daughter, Mrs. Pearl Powers, 4500 South Michigan avenue. Mrs. Powers, who lived at 1284 Madison place, was named administrator of the estate.

JOHN D. TELEGRAPHS FLOWERS TO FUNERAL OF HIS ODD JOB MAN

Ormond Beach, Fla., Feb. 26.—John Hottels, a laborer, employed for many years at the Forest Hills estate of John D. Rockefeller in Cleveland, raked leaves, painted fences, and did odd jobs. In the ordinary course of events it would not have been surprising if the aged millionaire had not known of the presence on the payroll of this cog in a big machine.

Old age exacted its inevitable toll and a week ago Hottels died. The superintendent at Forest Hills wired Mr. Rockefeller of Hottels' death. Mr. Rockefeller telegraphed:

"I wish to express my sincere sympathy to the family of John Hottels and send appropriate flowers, and they cannot be too good for our dear old friend. His life and uniformly beautiful example is a rich inheritance to us all."

Lizzie Hottels, daughter of John Hottels, wrote Mr. Rockefeller: "I wish to express my sincere thanks for your kind telegram and beautiful floral piece received during our bereavement. The photograph you sent my father some time ago greatly appreciated. He was very proud of it. I also wish to thank you for the kindly interest you had shown him in pensioning him for the last sixteen years, when he was unable to work."

THIEF SNATCHES THREE RINGS.

While Mrs. William Eichenbaum, 2818 Eastwood avenue, was in a crowd at State and Monroe streets yesterday she felt a sudden tug at her handbag. She turned, but could see no one, the robber escaping with the bag containing three rings valued at $1,500.

MANY STEAMERS IN DISTRESS IN ATLANTIC GALES

Tidal Wave Wrecks
Island Near Brest.

PARIS, Feb. 26.—[By the Associated Press.]—Several steamers are aground from Dunkirk, on the Straits of Dover, to Biarritz, on the Bay of Biscay, and many others today were sending out wireless calls for assistance in the terrific westerly gales which have been raging from the English channel along the Atlantic to the Bay of Biscay for the last four days. Tonight the gales were showing no signs of abating.

An unidentified freight steamer is breaking up near Cape Gris Nez, across the English channel from Dover, and there seems to be little hope of saving the crew.

Pick Up Distress Signals.

The Lorient wireless station picked up this afternoon distress signals from the Italian steamer Citta di Elena, the Pelagia, a vessel of Greek registry, and another ship the name of which could not be deciphered by the wireless operator.

A tidal wave today struck Sein island, twenty-eight miles off Brest. The breakwater was demolished and all the houses in the lower part of the island were ruined. Hundreds of persons are homeless. No relief can be sent to the island, because of the high seas.

ROBERT CLOWRY, EX-W. U. CHIEF, DIES SUDDENLY

Was Promoter of Chicago World's Fair.

New York, Feb. 26.—Robert C. Clowry, 84, former president and general manager of the Western Union Telegraph company, died on a Pennsylvania train en route to New York this afternoon, his secretary, Franklin J. Scherer, announced tonight.

Mr. Clowry was returning in a private car from Palm Beach, where he recently had contracted a heavy cold. He became seriously ill on the journey and arrangements were made to take him to his home in Tarrytown. He died while the train was running between Washington and New York, Mr. Scherer said. Mr. Clowry had been at Palm Beach since late in January.

Born in Illinois.

Mr. Clowry was born on a farm in Will County, Illinois, Sept. 8, 1840. He gained a common school education and in 1862 became a messenger for the Illinois and Missouri Telegraph company—later a Western Union subsidiary—at Joliet, Ill. For the first six months he received no pay.

Away from home and ambitious to become a telegrapher, he did extra work to maintain himself. At the end of the first year, although only 16, Mr. Clowry was made manager of the company's offices at Lockport and when 21 became superintendent of the company.

Mr. Clowry gained his title of colonel in the civil war, which he entered as a captain in 1863. It is related of him that he was probably the first man ever to employ "wireless" telegraphy. He was in command of a force in Missouri. The night was dark and rainy and he was unable to communicate with a larger unit of Union troops across the river because the enemy had cut the wires.

A short distance from his tent stood a locomotive. He climbed into the cab, seized the whistle cord, and sounded a message in Morse code, which brought reinforcements.

Returns to Telegraphy.

Mustered out of service in 1866, Col. Clowry went back to commercial telegraphy and soon rose to be superintendent of the Western Union lines in the southwest. He became president and general manager of the Western Union in 1902.

Col. Clowry married in 1865 Miss Caroline A. Estabrook of Omaha, Neb. She died in April, 1869.

On Nov. 25, 1910, when he retired and was succeeded to the presidency of the Western Union by the late Theodore N. Vail, he had been active for fifty-eight years in the telegraphic field. He was one of the promoters of the Chicago world's fair in 1893. He was also a director of the Equitable Trust company, New York.

COUNCIL PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE TO ALD. KOSTNER

Funeral Services to Be Held Tomorrow.

Mayor Dever, his cabinet, the entire city council, and all municipal department and bureau heads will attend the funeral of Ald. Joseph O. Kostner tomorrow afternoon. The services will be held at 1 o'clock in the Lawnside Masonic temple at 2300 South Millard avenue. Out of respect for their deceased colleague, the aldermen, in a special council meeting yesterday, voted to close the city hall tomorrow.

Memorial resolutions, drafted by his closest friends, Ald. Jacob M. Arvey (24th), George M. Maypole (28th), and Dorsey Crowe (42d), were approved by the council and will be engrossed for presentation to Ald. Kostner's widow.

Brought About City Betterment. Ald. Kostner, according to the resolutions, "in his long term of service to the city, as one of its executive officers and as a member of its common council, by unstinted sacrifice, conscientious application to duty, and unswerving devotion to the public interest, brought about innumerable betterments in the municipal service of permanent and incalculable value."

Short services over Ald. Kostner's body will be read in the family home at 1410 Independence boulevard preceding the rites in the Masonic temple. In addition to the mayor and the other city officials, 500 firemen and policemen, a platoon of mounted police, the Twenty-third Ward Regular Democratic organization, and the Democratic county central committee will have places in the funeral cortege from the temple to the Bohemian National cemetery.

Widow Won't Enter Council.

Earlier plans by leaders of the Twenty-third ward organization to insure the nomination of Mrs. Kostner to succeed her husband in the city council were abandoned yesterday at her request, and petitions in behalf of John Toman, former alderman of the ward and now a member of the board of local improvements, were placed in circulation.

DR. T. C. BURGESS, HEAD OF BRADLEY TECH, DIES AT 66

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 26.—Theodore C. Burgess, for twenty-one years president of Bradley Polytechnic institute, died suddenly this morning at his home. He was 66 years old.

Dr. Burgess came to Peoria from the University of Chicago when Bradley was opened, twenty-eight years ago, and was one of the three original members of the faculty. He was a graduate of the University of Chicago.

Under his leadership Bradley has grown from a school of two buildings and 500 students to a group of fifteen fine stone buildings and more than 2,000 students.

The degree of doctor of laws was conferred on him in June, 1923, at Hamilton college. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity.

Dr. Burgess is survived by his wife, a daughter, Mrs. Roscoe Page of Beaver Dam, Wis.; a brother, and a sister who lives in Holland, Mich.

Funeral services will be held at 1 o'clock tomorrow at the Bohemian National cemetery.

CHAPLIN, SUING IMITATOR, GETS COURT GRILLING

Asked if Club Women Are Opposing Him.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Charles Chaplin, light lip and squinting in the witness booth before Judge R. L. Hudner today, engaged questioning regarding the impairment of his personal and moving picture career during the last six months.

“The first time intimations that clubwomen are asserted to have banded to oppose the showing of the comedian's films received public notice.”

Attorneys for Charles Amador (Charles Chaplin) and for the latter's screen promoter, W. S. Sanford, called Chaplin as a witness, and shot questions at the comedian which had him shooting looks of appeal to his counsel, Justice L. Wright.

Chaplin was called in the course of his suit to enjoin showing the films of Charles “Applins,” who, Chaplin charges, is an imitator of his dress, antics, and film characterization.

Analyze His Popularity.
Attorney Ben Goldman for the defense asked:
“You enjoy a certain celebrity and good will with the public?”
Chaplin—Yes.

Q—Is this celebrity due to make-up? A—I don't know.
Q—Is it due to artistry, method of acting, subjects, or personality? A—It's due to all of these, I suppose it's just me.

Q—Is an actor's success affected by his private life? A—I cannot answer that.
Q—But you know that escapades on the part of an actor impair his good will?
Objections made and sustained while the witness regarded Judge Hudner with intensity.

Q—Has your own personal popularity been impaired during the last six months? A—I don't know.
Asked if Women Oppose Him.
Q—Is your current picture finished? A—It is not completed.

Q—Was that picture canceled for future showing in a Los Angeles theater after clubwomen of California had objected to it? A—It's a lie.
Thomas McKay, a defense witness, who said he was one member of an English comedy skit in which Chaplin and Fred Kitchin also played in 1907, was on the stand in the afternoon.

Chaplin, from the stand, was asked if he recognized him. Chaplin hesitated and then said “No.”
After the afternoon McKay testified that he and Chaplin had known each other for three or four years in London and that in 1909 they lived opposite each other on Brooks street and had many long walks and long talks together.

McKay was emphatic that Chaplin's movie walk was a replica of Fred Kitchin's, and said Kitchin, Will Paul, and Albert Bruno, and Harry Weldon, English comedians of 1907, all used the baggy pants, flexible cane, battered derby, toothbrush mustache, and floppy shoes.

BOTH MADDEN
AND LONGWORTH
CLAIM VICTORYCaucus to Select Speaker Tonight.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—On the eve of the Republican house caucus set for tomorrow night supporters of both Representative Madden (Rep., Ill.) and Representative Longworth (Rep., O.) were claiming the speakership nomination.

Votes of 117 members will be necessary to obtain the caucus nomination if the 232 regular Republicans are present. Managers of the Madden campaign claim more than 121 votes. The Longworth managers have claimed 113 votes without counting any of those from the Pennsylvania delegation, which is conceded to hold the balance of power.

The Longworth managers expect to get at least two-thirds of the Pennsylvania delegation, which they say will insure his election. The Madden leaders have about half a dozen active supporters in the Pennsylvania delegation of thirty-six.

Secretary Mellon today issued a statement on the speakership, declaring that he had at all times consistently refrained from taking any part for or against either Mr. Longworth or Mr. Madden.

“They are both personal friends,” said Mr. Mellon, “and the relations between each of them and the treasury has always been of an intimate and entirely harmonious character.”

Aside from the speakership contest interest in tomorrow night's caucus centers in the attitude to be adopted toward the La Follette Republicans, none of whom has been invited to participate.

The caucus may adopt resolutions declaring against recognition of the insurgents as Republicans on standing committees. Under such a policy the committee on committees may allow most of the Wisconsin group to remain on present committees only where there are minority vacancies.

Col. Ingersoll, friend of civil war heroes, died at Carbondale, Ill., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—Col. E. J. Ingersoll, widely known civil war veteran, twice a member of the Illinois legislature, close friend of Gen. John A. Logan, and an acquaintance of Gen. Grant, Gen. Sherman, Joseph Medill, founder of the Chicago Tribune, and Senator Cullom, died here today at the age of 88 years.

Death was due to senility and a stroke of paralysis.
He was the city's oldest business man, retiring after fifty years from the jewelry business. He was three times mayor.

PARIS, Feb. 26.—“The battle of Paris got Osborne Wood,” said an American lawyer here, who formerly acted as the missing former's lawyer in Paris. “Wood is all right, and will pay up every cent he owes, but he must have time, and his friends know it and will not demand immediate payment for the paper they hold.”

Osborne is only a young man and he started a fast, furious pace in Paris without realizing how deep he was getting in. His real friends tried to take care of him, but he allowed a clique of bloodsuckers to draw him away with them. They milked him dry and he became desperate.”

Scholle's Semi-Annual Sale
of Good Furniture

Solid Walnut Spanish Renaissance Dining Room Group, Chairs Upholstered in imported Tapestry and Mohair Combination with Fringe.

Group of Table, 5 Chairs and 1 Arm Chair ..... $476.00
Sideboard ..... 138.00
Cabinet ..... 124.00
Serving Table ..... 84.00

IT'S surprising the number of people who plan months ahead to buy what furniture they need at our semi-annual sales.

We plan and prepare months ahead by buying specially for sale purposes at a time when business is slack with the furniture makers. They prefer to sell merchandise to us for very little more than cost, rather than to shut down and lay off their men for want of something to do.

Don't make the mistake of thinking that the merchandise that we buy for sale purposes is, in any way, inferior. It's our regular “Scholle-quality.” Absolutely the only difference is in the price. We're able to buy it for a lot less money, and right now, during our February Sale, we're giving our customers the full benefit of the low prices we paid.

Many of our customers wait for our sales; because they know that “Scholle-quality” means the best. They appreciate the opportunity to save money. They know that everything we sell is guaranteed; that if it's not satisfactory, they can return it and get something else, or their money back, just as they prefer.

Look this list over. It's only a partial list, but you'll be interested in the wonderful bargains

4 DIXIE STATES HUNT BORGLUM AS A WRECKER

South Rallies to Aid of Mountain Memorial.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 26.—Police of four states, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, and Georgia, joined today in the search for Sculptor Gutzon Borglum and J. G. Tucker, charged with malicious mischief following the destruction of models and plans for the monument to the confederacy at Stone Mountain, Georgia, yesterday.

The two men have been variously reported as having boarded a train for Cincinnati and identified as occupants of an automobile which stopped at Grayson, Ga., last evening for gasoline, according to information received by the local authorities. The sculptor's wife professed ignorance as to her husband's whereabouts but said he would "undoubtedly return at the proper time and face the charges against him."

Promises Work Will Continue.

Plans were devised today for resumption of work on the mountain. Hollins N. Randolph, president of the association, announced in a statement which promised steady continuation of the work and appealed for further cooperation of the people of the country and particularly those of the south.

Destruction of the models followed closely the dismissal of Borglum as sculptor for the memorial by the executive committee of the association Wednesday afternoon.

Suit for $50,000 damages was filed yesterday by E. Rivers, vice president of the Stone Mountain Memorial association, against Borglum for the alleged destruction of the models and plans to which the association claimed title.

Following receipt of a telegram from Gov. McLeod of South Carolina today to governors of southern states calling on them to aid in the completion of the memorial, Gov. Clifford Walker of Georgia, in telegrams to eleven southern governors, declared Georgia would contribute any contribution any other state may make for finishing the memorial.

Investigation Demanded.

Resolutions demanding that a committee of sculptors pass on the work already done on the Stone Mountain memorial and asking a complete and immediate audit of the books of the association, adopted by Atlantic chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, were made public tonight.

This is demanded, the resolution says, as an "act of simple justice to the sculptor who was dismissed without a hearing, the public which has furnished the money and the Daughters of the Confederacy to whom the gift of the surface of the mountain was made."

Texas Pledges Aid.

Austin, Tex., Feb. 26.—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today urged Gov. T. G. McLeod of South Carolina that she would issue an appeal to members of the southern patriotic organizations in Texas asking that they support the campaign to raise funds with which to continue work on the confederate memorial at Stone Mountain, Ga.

Actor Tries Role of Holdup Man; Gets Hook

An actor, a stylish dresser, turned holdup man early last night. He is James Murphy, 28 years old of Minneapolis, who is rooming at 6119 Inglewood avenue.

He walked into the clear store at Monroe and Chicago today and painted a gun at the clerk, Frank Duckman. Duckman grabbed a hammer and started fighting and yelling. Mounted Policeman A. G. Specht ran in. Murphy ran out and into an alley. Specht leaped upon him, throwing Murphy into a sand pile. There they fought the possession of the robber's gun until Mounted Policeman Michael Ahern arrived to help subdue the former actor.

Members of the crowd that had trailed into the alley started kicking the covering thief and the policeman were forced to fight their way out with the prisoner.

At Meal Time Snap Into It

Your Box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Enables You to Face a Big Banquet with Delight.

These grumpy dyspepsia who throw a fit when food is tried can get back in the good graces of the family circle by the simple expedient of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. One or two at meal time not only aid digestion but stop acid fermentation, clear away the gasiness, lift off the bloated feeling, end heartburn and make the stomach cozy with ease the foods that used to apparently cause disagreeable discomfort.

These tablets sweeten the stomach of a dyspeptic by giving it the alkaline effect as in health. Thus, when you eat corned beef and tallow, pork sausage, mince pie, lockwatts, baked beans, or other stables, you laugh at all fear and once again enjoy the freedom of a good eater in good company. Get 40 cent box today. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and then tell dyspepsia to go hang.

DICKINSON CO-OP MARKETING BILL PASSED BY HOUSE

Supplants Capper-Haugen Measure.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—The Dickinson cooperative marketing bill was passed by the house today by a vote of 284 to 85. In a previous roll call the house by a vote of 203 to 175 had substituted the Dickinson bill, which was supported by some of the cooperatives, for the more far-reaching Capper-Haugen bill, embodying recommendations of the President's agricultural conference.

Indications now are that the senate either will pass something similar to the Dickinson bill or else will fail to act on farm legislation at this session. Rejection by the house of the Capper-Haugen bill appears to have killed the administration measure.

President Coolidge, it is believed, will sign the Dickinson bill if it reaches the desk of the president.

Under the Dickinson bill a federal cooperative marketing board, an advisory board, and the bureau of agricultural economics of the department of agriculture will attempt to encourage and promote cooperative marketing, but without seeking to regulate the marketing associations.

So little time remains of the session that the fate of the legislation in the senate is decidedly in doubt. The leaders, however, intend to pass some kind of bill if possible.

Germany Again Protests French in Saare Valley

GENEVA, Feb. 26.—[By the Associated Press.]—The German government has sent a note to the secretary general of the league of nations protesting against the maintenance of French troops in Saare valley. This note, which is not the first of its kind sent to the league, will be examined at the forthcoming session of the council of the league.

him. While the administration was supporting the Capper-Haugen bill, its objection to the Dickinson bill was that it did not go far enough in the supervision and regulation of cooperatives.

UNIFORM STATE LAWS OBJECT OF CONFERENCE HERE

Easy Divorces, Mail Order Gun to Come Under Ban

Time will come—
 When the divorce of convenience
 may no longer be obtained through a temporary residence in Reno or some other place.

When the crook who wants a new revolver—his old one having been confiscated by the police—may not skip across the state line and purchase one.

When the slicker who sells stock may no longer jump and scamper when it is too hot for him and calmly
 pursue his illegal calling in another.

When a good many other folks will have to conform with a great many other laws simply because they can't change residence and get out of them.

Trailing the Nonconformist.
 For the national conference of commissioners on uniform state laws is in the trail of the nonconformist, and the American Bar association is, as the latter says, aiding and abetting.

Uniformity of the laws governing the sale of securities, the purchase of mail order guns and the totting of the subjects up for discussion as the former organization opened its conference here yesterday at the Hotel La Salle and the rooms of the Chicago Bar association.

The uniform blue sky law was discussed at the bar association's quarters,
 while other proposed uniform legislation, such as the child labor law, the property act, and a drug act were talked over at the hotel.

Discuss Inheritance Tax.
 Col. Nathan William MacChesney,
 lawyer and president of the conference of commissioners, was at the same time in session with the executive committee, discussing a uniform inheritance tax law at the suggestion of President Coolidge.

This question, after the discussion,
 was referred to a special committee on scope and progress, which is expected to report on it today.

The question of a uniform state
 mechanics' lien law also was taken up,
 this at the request of Herbert Hoover,
 secretary of commerce.

The commissioners form an official body appointed under an act of congress and the statutes of the states.
 "It is not a part of the American Bar association," says Col. MacChesney.

SOUTH WATER ST. PROJECT PUSHED AT RAPID RATE

Work Far Ahead of the Time Schedule.

Rapid progress in the improvement of South Water street justifies the belief that the $25,000,000 widening and double decking project will be completed several months earlier than expected, according to John J. Sloan, president of the board of local improvements.

Preliminary work schedules set Oct.
 1, 1924, as the time when the boulevard from the Michigan avenue link bridge to Market and Madison streets could be thrown open to traffic. Engineers report that despite unfavorable weather which has prevailed the schedule has been left so far behind that the improvement, barring serious accidents, can be completed by Aug. 1, 1925.

Paving to Begin Soon.
 Already half of the work between Madison and Randolph streets is finished and paving will be undertaken as soon as the frost is out of the ground. Here existing sidewalks were reduced to a width of twelve feet to allow a 116 foot wide roadway, the east half of which will be a heavy traffic thoroughfare and the west half a boulevard rising on a ramp to the South Water street upper level near Randolph street.

Old Buildings Razed.
 All the necessary caissons have been sunk and the dock piling completed between Market and Franklin streets.
 One of the few downtown buildings to escape the great fire of 1871—the Lind block at the northwest corner of Market and Randolph streets—is being torn down to make way for the new boulevard. The building, one of the oldest in the city, was constructed several years before the civil war.

LEGISLATORS END TOUR AT U. OF I.; PLEDGE FUND AID

Urbana, Ill., Feb. 26.—[By the Associated Press.]—Six thousand students and faculty members of the University of Illinois this afternoon heard
 State Senator Harold Kessinger of Aurora declare that he had been convinced of his error in opposing the idea of big universities and henceforth might be classed as a friend of the University of Illinois. Two years ago Senator Kessinger opposed the university's requests, and urged restrictions against nonresident students which the legislature enacted.

This announcement by Senator Kessenger was regarded as the outstanding event of the second and last day of the legislators' biennial inspection of the university. Tonight trains were bearing the 100 senators and representatives and their wives back to Springfield.

Inspect Campus Buildings.
 Today's inspection tour took the visitors to all the buildings and every corner of the campus. It ended with a review of the university R. O. T. C. brigade, which numbers between 3,000
 and 4,000 student soldiers, trained by regular army officers under Col. W. T.
 Merry.

The review was followed by a convocation of students in the big armory.
 Six speakers addressed the meeting which concluded with the singing of "Illinois Loyalty." Senator Henry M.
 Dunlap of Savoy, and President David
 Kinley of the university divided honors presiding.

Representative Truman A. Snell of Carlinville won loud applause in criticizing the movement "on foot to move the law school to Springfield," which,
 he declared, was "only on one foot."
 Senator Cuthbertson of Bunker Hill spoke approvingly of the school's service in solving "unrest and anarchy."
 He promised active support for its appropriation. Representative Katherine Good of Chicago also promised support.

Legislators Pledge Aid.
 At a luncheon at noon Senator Richard Meents of Ashkum, Representative Norman Flagg of Moro, Senator
 Florence F. Bohrer of Bloomington,

Representative C. A. Bruer of Pontiac,
 Representative Grover C. Hoff of Clinton, and Senator Adelbert Roberts of Chicago pledged their backing to the general promise of "every dollar the university is justly entitled to."

Senator Florence Bohrer made her first speech since entering the legislature. Regarding the university, she said she hoped the time would never come when a boy might not come here
 and work his way through college.

Slayer of Narcotic Agent
 to Draw 15 Years in Prison

Chief Justice Hopkins of the Criminal court yesterday indicated he would impose a penitentiary sentence of fifteen years upon Alvin H. Beck, colored, who on Oct. 15 shot and killed James Williams, a narcotic agent. Beck a few moments before the shooting had been arrested for selling narcotics. Sentence will be imposed today.

Some by-products of your telephone

Homes, furniture, automobiles—in fact whole suburban sections—have come out nation's telephones.

Just how important these by-products are to community building you will realize by comparing the bustling towns around the Hawthorne Works with the prairies of twenty years ago.

To this development of a greater Chicago,
 Western Electric has contributed in large measure by building up here the world's greatest telephone factory.

Let's tell the world!
 Chicago is just as truly the center for telephones as Pittsburgh for steel or Detroit for automobiles. Another reason to be proud of our great city!

Famous Health Builder Makes Great Discovery

As a result of fourteen years' experience as the physical trainer and conditioner of hundreds of the most prominent Chicago business men, Charles M. Post has made a most remarkable discovery. He has found a new and most amazing method of promoting bodily health and vigor through the pores of the skin. And this wonderful new method can be used by any man or woman in the privacy of the home.

A New Body Builder and Skin Exerciser

The average man takes into his body each day 128 ounces of solid and liquid food which must be disposed of by the kidneys, the bowels, the lungs and the skin in the same length of time. The first three eliminating agents are easily kept in good working order. But few people realize the extreme importance of the skin as an eliminator of body poisons and waste. The pores of the skin dispose of 48 ounces of waste every 24 hours.
 Bathing with soap and water merely removes the surface accumulation of this waste. It does not get down into the pores and thoroughly cleanse them.

Post's VIGOROL is applied to the skin after bathing and rubbed dry. It opens the pores and causes them to discharge the full 48 ounces of waste which it is their duty to eliminate every day. It overcomes stiffness, soreness, rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, sprains, etc. VIGOROL gives you a soft, velvety, ruddy, vigorous looking skin which is the badge of health and vitality.

Try It At Our Risk

Mr. Post wants every man to have an opportunity of trying his great discovery VIGOROL. Obtain it from any druggist or sporting goods dealer, or send the coupon today with 75 cents and we will mail you a full size bottle for trial use. If you are absolutely satisfied with the results you obtain,
 you may have your money back.

HERE IS THE WHOLE TROUBLE

THE BIG TRUNK STORE next door to us had a FIRE in the basement, back of their store, which threatened the ENTIRE BLOCK of PLANO ROW
 —WABASH AVENUE. The fire looked so threatening that it drove all of the occupants out of the building. Fortunately no one was hurt.
 All fire apparatus in the loop was on deck in less than three minutes after the call, which we consider wonderful. Our pianos were not injured from fire. The only damage we had was SMOKE and WATER.

YOU understand INSURANCE COMPANIES are always WILLING and

GREENBAUM TO EXPAND BANK IN ROANOKE BLDG.

BY AL CHASE.

Growth of the Greenbaum Sons Bank and Trust company has forced that organization to rent the corner store in the Roanoke building, now occupied by Hoefel's furniture shop, and also the store next to it on the east, at 137 West Madison, now used by D. L. Leisner & Son, hat makers. The lease is for fifteen years from May 1 at a term rental of $540,000, or $36,000 annually. Arrangements also have been made to take over the space now occupied by the Lumbermen's club of Chicago, on the fourth floor, comprising 5,500 square feet. When these additions are made the Greenbaum bank will occupy practically the entire basement and ground floor, the entire second and third floors, and a large portion of the fourth and sixth.

"Mike" Artery Buys Flats.

Mr. Michael C. Artery, labor impresario and real estate owner, has added to his holdings of Chicago property by buying the forty-three apartment building at 715-27 Barry avenue from Louis Dulsky, of Dulsky & Dulsky, attorneys, for a reported $210,000. Mr. Artery gave in part payment the eighteen flats at the southwest corner of Kingston and East 74th place, at $130,000. T. A. McGrogan & Co. were brokers.

Here's a deal made in the Florida boom style, according to Attorney Irving Greenspan. On Jan. 15 Samuel J. Greenspan bought the fifty feet at 2212 Lawrence from Abraham Liebling for $184,000. Yesterday he sold it to Emil Mayer, Herman Hirsch, and William Kaufman for $168,500, or a profit of $15,500 within five weeks. The building is occupied by Spiegel's Housefurnishing company.

The eighty acres at the southwest corner of 71st and Kedzie, facing Marquette park, have been sold by Howard Van Doren Shaw, his brother, Theodore A. Shaw, George B. McLean, and Archibald J. P. McLean. The Chicago Title and Trust company took title for an undisclosed buyer who intends, it is understood by the sellers, to subdivide it.

To Build at Kenmore-Glenlake.

Louis Walin, David Greenberg, and Abraham Levinson have bought the 100x150 vacant lot at the southeast corner of Kenmore and Glenlake from James A. Biddeman for an indicated $100,000, subject to a mortgage of $40,000, and will erect a three story sixty-eight flat building.

John A. Kneale and Charles E. Kneen have sold the fifteen flats at the southeast corner of 77th and Kingston, lot 10x125, to Joseph W. Mironas, for $110,000, subject to $45,000, according to Glat & Price, who represented all parties.

The twelve apartments at the northeast corner of Cornelia and Reta avenue have been sold by Morris Newman to Sarah Davidson for a reported $75,000, the seven stores at 126 Harrison street, Oak Park, being given in exchange at $40,000. Samuel E. Davidson and Michael Newman were attorneys.

INQUEST TODAY FOR GAS VICTIM. An inquest will be held today into the death of Peter Pank, 49 years, 2122 West 19th street, who was found dead in a gas filled room at that address yesterday.

4 out of 5
are victims

These are the odds you fight in a battle against Pyorrhea. Four out of every five over 40 as well as those under 40 are afflicted with this sinister disease. Will you be a victim?

Protect your gums and save your teeth

Just as a ship needs the closest attention under the water-line, so do your teeth under the gum-line. If the gums shrink, serious dangers result.

The teeth are loosened. They are exposed to tooth-base decay. The gums themselves become tender and bleed easily. They form sacs which become the doorways of organic disease for the whole system. They often disfigure the mouth as they recede.

Prevent Pyorrhea with Forhan's
If used in time and used consistently, Forhan's will prevent or check its progress. Forhan's is safe, efficient and pleasant-tasting. It preserves gum health, corrects tender gums, spots, hardens gum tissues so they will offer proper support to the teeth, and keeps your mouth fresh and healthy. Forhan's is more than a tooth paste; it checks Pyorrhea. Thousands have found it beneficial for years. For your own sake ask for and get Forhan's For the Gums. At all druggists, 35c and 60c in tubes.

STATE PROPERTY TAX IS CALLED NATION'S WORST

A state board of tax commissioners, with power to reject any bond issue and to cut any tax assessment, after a hearing, was urged for Illinois before the Illinois Manufacturers' Costs association last night by Judge William A. Hough of Indianapolis.

Judge Hough, member of Indiana's board of tax commissioners, assailed politicians who run for office on tax reductions, platforms and then race to see who can spend the most in needless ways.

Illinois' $100,000,000 road bond issue was attacked.

"It should have been defeated," Judge Hough declared. "The roads should be built from regular taxes. Now you will pay $200,000,000 before you are through. The state of Illinois has the worst system of any state in the union for assessing property. The wonder is that it works at all."

GIRL WHO SLEW

FATHER HELD ON

MURDER CHARGE

Seventeen-year-old girls must not take the law into their own hands no matter what the provocation, as long as there are policemen to call, a coroner's jury decided yesterday.

So Rose De Petro, 17 years old, was ordered arrested for the murder of her father whom she says she killed Wednesday morning because she feared he wanted to attack her. She was ordered held on a charge of murder. The father, John De Petro, was an Italian cement worker. The family lives at 1113 Blue Island avenue. The girl's mother and her brother, Carmen, 20 years old, both testified for the girl at the inquest and said that the father, whose mind they thought had become affected, had tried three times recently to attack his daughter and had beaten her and other members of the family.

ROBBERS STEAL GEMS; BEAT JEWELER. When Anton Engelmann, 1008 Orde avenue, resided three handbags who robbed a jewelry store of about $1,000 worth of gems yesterday, he was beaten unconscious.

George Porter Runs Afoul of Bandit Gang Looting His House

By NANCY R.

Fortunately, it isn't every day that a dinner host has such excitement as a tale of bandits to serve his guests along with the first course, but George Porter did the other evening.

He was giving a dinner party on election night this week at his 1335 North State street ménage. Just as he was dressing for the party, he was notified that there were robbers in the old brown stone house, also on North State street, known since the days of the builder and first owner as the Lerman J. Gage house, which Mr. Porter bought some time ago.

Taking only a houseman and, as I understand it, a stick for protection, Mr. Porter rushed out to rout the intruders and guard his property. He caught two youthful rowdies and when the police wagon reached the scene of action turned them over to the firm hands of the law.

Then he had a sudden inspiration, decided there might be more to the eye, went in again, and unearthed some seven or eight more. The house has stood almost empty for several years, but the marauders had smashed everything they could find in it. One of the gang was such a little chap that Mr. Porter detained him, thinking a spanking would be sufficient punishment for him, only to receive such a splendid glare from the offender that the captor wished he had sent him with the other confederates.

Mr. Porter is an excellent citizen and always interests himself in local elections, so much so that many of his friends suspect this attack on his property might be political "doings," an answer to his successful campaign this year whereby Arthur F. Albert was elected alderman from the Third ward. The new alderman was invited to Mr. Porter's dinner on Tuesday, but business at the polls kept him from joining the others until later in the evening.

This interest in our local politics reminds me of an anecdote I heard yesterday—it's so different! A certain woman, prominent in Chicago society, was asked if she had voted. She said yes, that she came from California, where women had been able to vote for a long time, and that voting bored her to death! Lucky that we don't have like that in the matter of responsibilities, isn't it?

Day's News in Society

Forty well known Chicago men and women are sponsoring the dinner to be given for Mrs. Fannie Bloomfield Zeller at 7 o'clock this evening at the Drake to celebrate the fifth anniversary of her first public appearance as a pianist. About 400 are expected to be present.

Recent graduates of the colleges to be represented in the alumnae forum of the women's eastern colleges will act as ushers at the luncheon to be held at 12:15 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Blackstone hotel. Assisting Mrs. Percival Hart, chairman of the luncheon arrangements committee, are Miss Frances Connelley and Mrs. William S. Covington of Vassar; Miss Lois Healy and Miss Martha Morse of Smith; Mrs. Howard Goodman, Miss Harriet Charles and Miss Joy Scheidehelm of Wellesley, and Mrs. Edward K. Welles, Mrs. John N. Lee, and Mrs. Keith Carpenter of Bryn Mawr.

Mrs. William E. Clarke of 1350 State avenue, will be hostess on Thursday evening, March 5, for a meeting of the Italian-American society. Mrs. Nancy McCormack, who made a bust of Premier Mussolini, will speak on her personal observations of the Italian statesman and will also talk about other important men and women of Italy.

A Florida news letter tells of a luncheon and bridge party given at Miami Beach on Wednesday by Mrs. George E. Van Hagen for Miss Gertrude Hart of the Ambassador hotel, a recent arrival of Miami. Among the Chicago women present were Mrs. Charles H. Chadwick, Mrs. Louis Wasey, and Mrs. Douglas Hopkins. Theodore Dickinson has arrived at Miami and has opened his winter place there.

Mrs. George Robb Collins of 448 Barry avenue has departed with her two sons for Altadena, Cal., where she will visit her mother, Mrs. Thomas Dykes Whitney.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Elting of Winnetka and their son, Victor Jr., arrived yesterday from New York City. The Eltings spent several weeks in Florida and stopped on their return in the east to see their sons, Winston, who is a student at Princeton, and John, who is at Hotchkiss school in Connecticut.

Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen of 1430 Astor street has departed for a stay in Los Angeles, Cal.

Tower of Pisa Is Threatening to Topple Over

ROME, Feb. 26.—[United News.]—After 771 years of giddy leaning exactly sixteen feet out of plumb the famous tower of Pisa has added a few inches to its tilt. Unless remedial measures are adopted soon, the venerable old pile will finally stretch its 188 feet of length lengthwise with a sudden crash.

The problem of succoring the tower is too much for European engineering technique, so Italy plans to send to the United States for engineers to move the medieval monument to a safer foundation in another corner of the square it has overlooked for nearly ten centuries.

Subterranean streams have weakened the tower's site. When it was built in 1154 the ancient architect envisaged a sturdy, upright tower which would carry his fame to posterity. Even as the workmen placed the stones of the round tower body the tower began to lean. Before the thing was completed the uppermost cornice slanted out of perpendicular. Some slight alterations were made, and the structure achieved fame through the centuries as the leaning tower of Pisa.

Because the tower rests on the surface of the ground, it is believed that it easily could be lifted and removed to a spot where bedrock would assure against another tardy subsidence. The structure could retain its unnatural tilt on its new site.

There is no immediate danger of collapse, according to the Italian engineers who discovered that the slant had increased. Tests probably will be made of the subsoil in various sections of the spacious square and a convenient and safe spot selected.

European engineers rarely called upon to deal with buildings that cannot be scaled with ladders. Business houses and residences are not high. Therefore, American experience will be welcome when Italy decides upon the time and place of removal of the tower of Pisa.

hat. A stained and soiled hat band has never improved the appearance of any hat, and never will. In fact, it so ruins its appearance that you can't be considered well dressed if the band isn't immaculate.

Fashionists.

For wear with a smoke blue suit I suggest the following: Shirt of blue and white stripes, tie of pastel shades of purple and silver gray, hat of pearl gray, and overcoat of dark blue or some shade of gray. Or, a shirt of green or green and white stripes and a tie of pastel shades of green and blue or two shades of green. The hat might be greenish gray, or with hint of blue tone; the overcoat with greenish cast or of some shade of blue.

Now we have it! A Crisp, Tasty Cracker

If you like Shredded Wheat biscuit you will like Triscuit, the shredded wheat cracker. It is not made of flour—it is made of perfect whole grains of wheat cooked in steam, shredded, compressed into a cracker and baked in electric ovens. Its crispness compels thorough chewing. The more you chew it the better you like it. A lot of real food in condensed form. At all first class grocers.

Centers Attention Upon the Bride's Veil

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—It is notable that many fashionable New York brides of this last season have selected wedding gowns of the most extreme simplicity. Whatever attempt at variation has been made centered upon either veil or train, or both. An excellent example of such concentration is found in today's costume, one worn at a recent large wedding.

In this case the gown itself was a white satin sheath with long fitted sleeves extending into a deep point over the hand—a finish, by the way, that is frequently encountered. These sleeves tempered their severity by the loops of graduated depth ranged on the under side of the arm, and the skirt made a similar gesture of grace in the two side front draperies widening gradually from a narrow top. That was all there was to the frock.

The veil, however, succeeded in making the costume notable. In the first place, it was a gorgeous piece of point lace, and, in the second, it was split just at the waist line and trailed in two long ends. Through the manner in which it was arranged this veil achieved, too, an added distinction. For, as you see, it was drawn under a band of flowers encircling the back of the head and came up above the coiffure in a slight peak. The fact that the lace was then veiled in tulle and that the tulle itself was not forked, as was the lace, gave the final touch of grace to this original type of costume.

SCHAEFER RUNS 400 FROM BREAK, SETTING RECORD

PLAYERS' STANDING
	W.	L.	H.	R.
Schaefer, Chicago	2	0	400	400
Hoppe, New York	2	0	197	44-48
Hagenlacher, Germany	1	1	138	51-19

Suzuki, Japan	0	3	81

TODAY'S GAMES.
2:30—Cochran and Hornmann.
3:15—Hoppe and Hagenlacher.

BY JOE DAVIS.

Jake Schaefer, son of Chicago and section of the famous wizard, added fresh laurels to the family name when he won the international billiard tournament at the Congress hotel last night. He defeated Erich Hagenlacher, the champion of Germany, 400 to 0, running the game out from the break for a world's record. The Teuton invader was spurred on by the crowd, submerged with the trace of a smile. Hagenlacher used his cue only once, when he banked, and lost.

Never before in national or international matches has a player run out from the spot. Schaefer's objectives were a run of 384, made by Walker Cochran in the 1921 tournament at Chicago, and an average of 200 made by himself in the same event. He eclipsed both of them and set a record which is likely to stand many years.

Jake Plays Rapidly.
Schaefer made his first century by wonderful execution. His second hundred he reeled off in eleven minutes, as fast as it is possible to play. His third century did not come quite as easily, but he turned into the final stretch with the balls under good control and began working toward the much coveted record.

He was in trouble several times, but showing great resource, he kept going. For his seventy-seventh shot he had to play a three cushion around the table to the red in one corner. The white object ball ran a race with the cue ball, which had been driven across the table and was making toward the red ball, but Jake's ball got by and made the count and the crowd and again breathed. A few shots later he tied Cochran's mark, and then, with a short carom, passed it, the crowd cheering lustily.

Makes Few Long Drives.
There was still the 400 point to reach. The crowd was tense. At 394 Jake massed along the head rail for a fine count and at 392 had the balls "under a hat." Keeping the balls close, he quickly ran off the eight point for his new mark, and the spectators cheered.

Jake's play for the first 200 was perfect, as he kept the balls along the head rails, made few long table drives, and had to make only a few simple masses. After that his stroking was not so delicate and, while he spread the balls occasionally, he recovered timely.

The second 50 points of his second hundred were made in 6 minutes. This great exhibit was not without its disappointment, as one spectator came especially to see Hagenlacher perform.

Cochran Averages 100.
The afternoon game brought its quota of excitement to Walker Cochran, after his mediocre showing against Hoppe on Wednesday night, came back to his real form and defeated K. Suzuki, the champion of Japan, 400 to 115, turning in a great run of 308. As far as close execution was concerned, it was a finer run than that of Schaefer's at night, as he had fewer difficulties than the Chicagoan. Cochran, after running his 308, was well on his way to go out in three innings, but at 41 he missed, when he needed 11 points.

Suzuki, who has been a punching bag for the other opponents, made 81 in his opening inning and played so well that Walker realized he might be in for a tough battle, and so went at his game seriously. The score: COCHRAN—40, 308, 41, 11—400. Average, 100. High run, 308. SUZUKI—81, 31—115. Average, 37-23. High run, 81.

RUDOLPH SPLITS POCKET GAMES WITH HARMON
Harmon of New York and Rudolph of Chicago broke even in their National Pocket league games at Mussey's yesterday. Harmon won the evening game, 100 to 66. He had a high run of 26. Rudolph won the afternoon contest, 100 to 62. Harmon's cluster of 22 was high run. Rudolph's best run was 22 in the evening game. The series will be continued this afternoon and evening.

Chicago Grapplers Meet Purdue at Midway Tonight
Matmen of the University of Chicago and of Purdue will take hold at the Midway tonight in a Big Ten dual meet. The Maroons' recent victory over Northwestern indicated that Coach Vories' men have improved a bit as the season has advanced, the advantage now rating them about on a par with the Bollermakers. Herbert Takaki, 117 pounds, and Graham, 127 pounds, seem Chicago's best bets.

St. Viator College Five Beats Loyola, 27 to 12
St. Viator college jumped into the lead early in its game with Loyola on the latter's floor last night and had no trouble winning by a 27 to 12 score. Bove and Benda were the big scorers for the Kankakee tigers. At half time the score was 13 to 9.

De Kalb Normal Quintet Beats "Y" College, 40-23
DeKalb Normal college last night thrashed the Y. M. C. A. college quintet, 40 to 23, on the local floor. The playing of Stevenson, DeKalb forward, who sank nine baskets, featured.

PUBLIC RETURNS TO GRAIN MARKET
AND PRICES SOAR

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

A material increase in speculative interest in the grain markets, which the public taking hold on a liberal scale, swept values up sharply. May wheat touching $1.95 and July $1.65 on the bulge, the latter showing 10c over the low of the previous day, and the finish was at practically the top. Wheat gained 4 7/8c for the day. July 4 7/8c, May 4 7/8c. Corn gained 1/2c, July 1 1/2c, May 1 1/2c. Oats gained 1/2c, July 1 1/2c, May 1 1/2c. The bulk of the new speculative buying in wheat went into the July and August contracts. From the south, with some unfavorable crop reports reaching from Kansas and Nebraska and export sales of around 400,000 bu. new crop hard winters, was instrumental in causing the sensational advance. Numerous stop loss orders were executed on the way up. July has been a popular short sale for some time, and the advance was easily attained. The discount of 2c in Chicago, as compared with Liverpool, and 4c in Kansas City, attracted considerable attention. There was selling of May and buying of July to close spreads, which narrowed the difference to 2 1/2c at the last, against 2 1/2c at one time.

Wheat Reaction in Wheat.
There were no reactions of consequence in the wheat market from the start, with the lowest prices made early and the highest toward the last. Commission houses were persistent buyers and in sufficient volume to readily absorb profit-taking sales, which appeared at all even figures. May at Winnipeg sold above $2.00, being the first North American market to get above that figure on the present advance, and values at the last were at the highest finish since Feb. 3.

A liberal export business was put through in old crop. The bulk of the export business was put through in old crop. The bulk of the export business was put through in old crop. The bulk of the export business was put through in old crop.

Larger Trade in Corn.
While no change of consequence was shown in the cash corn situation, private reports on farm reserves were decidedly bullish led to general buying and a sharp advance. At the top, futures showed a slight advance, the low end of the market was generally decided bullish. The theory was expressed in some quarters that the cash situation was about as bullish as it could possibly be and that any change would have to be for the better. Oats followed corn, with a local house a persistent buyer of May.

While there were little indications of export business, the advanced sharply, with a good case of selling. Rye is regarded by many traders as being in a way a discount under wheat, the May spread at the last being 10c to 12c.

Provisions Close Higher.
Strength in hogs and corn more than offset selling of provisions by packers, and the close was at net gains of 10c to 15c on lard and ribs and 7 1/2c to 10c on beef. Prices follow:
